

State Residency and Source Income Factors for State Income Taxation of Irrevocable Non-Grantor Trusts

---

Companion chart to "Incomplete Gift, Non-Grantor Trusts - Not Just for State Income Tax Avoidance" and "Spousal Lifetime Access Non-Grantor Trusts" CLE/article/webinars, compiled by Ed Morrow, J.D., LL.M. (tax), CFP® - permission to reprint with attribution expressly permitted. Any bold or [bracketed comments] are added by author and are not in statute. There are two fundamental bases for taxation of non-grantor trust income: residency and source. States may tax all income of their residents but only source income of non-residents. Excerpts chosen from trust residency statutes focus on taxation of irrevocable non-grantor trusts (grantor trusts are usually ignored as separate taxpayers and thus most states look to the deemed owner's state of residence for income tax purposes, although Pennsylvania has unique rules). Excerpts from source income statutes focus on sale of LLC/LP/closely held corporations (since such sales are likely to be the largest source of avoidable income), and omit common source income provisions such as taxation of ongoing income from partnerships and pass through entities in state, wage income from services performed in state, state lottery winnings or sales of tangible property or real estate in state. Please contact the author with any updates, additions or corrections from your state at edwin.morrow3@gmail.com or edwin.morrow@usbank.com, or for future updates, as this will be periodically updated. Any field colored in blue contains a hyperlink directly to the state statute, regulation, case law, articles and/or other instructions or authority.

In left column, a shorthand summary of factors for trust residency is listed. Never rely on simple shorthand summaries or charts trying to pigeonhole a state's tax scheme into particular categories or checked boxes. Sometimes the opportunities will lie in navigating between the exact wording of the statute or nuances in the regulations, advisory rulings or case law. I use "settlor" to refer to the state regarding the residency of the settlor as relevant, "fiduciary" to refer to a state that deems the residency of the fiduciary/trustee to be relevant, "administration" where the state deems in-state administration to be relevant, "law" where the state deems the applicable law of the trust to be relevant, "beneficiary" where the state deems the residency of a beneficiary to be relevant, "assets" where the state deems the location of assets in state to be relevant (separately from source income rules) and "testator" when the residency of a decedent is relevant (which may only refer to estates and not revocable trusts unless "settlor" is also listed. There can be many permutations and combinations.

Also in the left column below the trust residency factors is a shorthand summary of source income taxation of pass through and closely held business entities (e.g. LLC/LPs, closely held corporations), where those states passing the UDITPA (Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act) are noted with that acronym and those generally following mobilia sequuntur personam are noted with "MSP". This phrase, loosely translated as "movables follow the person", generally means that taxation of the sale of intangible entities is based on the residency of the owner (e.g. trust), not where the entity does business or owns assets. For more discussion of this, see Ed Morrow on Corrigan v. Testa: Avoiding State Income Tax on Source Income, LISI Income Tax Planning Newsletter #93 (May 25, 2016).

For each state, the first rows will be trust residency statutes and/or regulations, followed by source income rules for sales of pass through entities. Additional notes may include links to state administrative code, state fiduciary income tax return instructions, important case law or state tax department rulings. Note that in many states, the source income rules may be different for sales of general partnership interests. Since extremely few people have any significant wealth in general partnerships with the rise of cheap and simple LLCs, LP, LLP, LLLPs etc (or could easily entitize prior to any sale), I have not always included those rules, which may be different from sales of entities.

	Ala. Code §40-18-14, in referring to the term gross income for nonresident individuals, states: “... The term “gross income,” in the case of a resident individual, includes income from sources within and outside Alabama, and in the case of a nonresident individual, includes only income from property owned or business transacted in Alabama...”
	Ala. Code § 40-18-25: "(3) In the case of a nonresident beneficiary, income derived through an estate or trust is taxable by this state only to the extent it is derived from property owned or business transacted in this state and as determined in accordance with this section. (d) The tax on an electing small business trust, for which an election under 26 U.S.C. §1361(e) is in effect, and on the beneficiaries of such trust shall be determined as follows: (1) The portion of the trust that consists of stock in one or more Alabama S corporations, as defined in Section 40-18-160, shall be treated as a separate trust. The net income of the separate trust shall be computed including only the items taken into account under Section 40-18-162, gain or loss from the disposition of stock of an Alabama S corporation, and federal income taxes and administrative expenses allocable to the income items treated under this subdivision. The net income shall be taxed at the rate of five percent. The separate trust shall not be allowed any personal exemption. (h) For the purpose of determining any income tax due by any nonresident beneficiary of any trust or estate, the income from intangible personal property shall not be construed to arise from sources within the state merely because the title and ownership of such intangible personal property is vested in a resident fiduciary, resident trust, or resident estate or the evidence of ownership thereof is located within the state."

(a) Capital gains and losses from sales of real property located in this state are allocable to this state. (b) Capital gains and losses from sales of tangible personal property are allocable to this state if (1) the property had a situs in this state at the time of the sale, or (2) the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not taxable in the state in which the property had a situs. (c) Capital gains and losses from sales of intangible personal property are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state."

	Regarding commercial domicile and sales of business, Alabama further clarified with an addition to UDITPA at ALA CODE §40-27-1.1: "Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary and specifically, Section 40-27-1, for purposes of Article IV of the Multistate Tax Compact, the term "business income" means income arising from transactions or activity in the course of the taxpayer's trade or business; or income from tangible or intangible property if the acquisition, management, or disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the taxpayer's trade or business operations; or gain or loss resulting from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of real property or of tangible or intangible personal property, if the property while owned by the taxpayer was operationally related to the taxpayer's trade or business carried on in Alabama or operationally related to sources within Alabama, or the property was operationally related to sources outside this state and to the taxpayer's trade or business carried on in Alabama; or gain or loss resulting from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of stock in another corporation if the activities of the other corporation were operationally related to the taxpayer's trade or business carried on in Alabama while the stock was owned by the taxpayer. A taxpayer may have more than one trade or business in determining whether income is business income."

	Appeal of Amyas and Evelyn P. Ames et al., 1987-SBE-042, June 17, 1987 - taxpayers who were non-CA residents sold a limited partnership interest in a partnership that did business in California (real estate in Los Angeles). The government argued that the partnership interest itself had a CA situs (and could therefore be taxed), but the court found that mobilia sequuntur personam applied and the sale of an intangible asset is sourced to the state of residency and therefore not taxed by California.

Trust residency factors: administration Source income: UDITPA, MSP	Note that for source income, the Colorado tax statute §39-22-109 (1st link below) differs from the regulation under that same statute (3d link below) as to the sale of partnerships or LLC/LPs taxed as partnerships: Regulation §39-22-109(e)(ii) states that: "Sale of Interest in Pass-through entity. Gain or loss from the sale of a Member's active interest in a Pass-through entity is Colorado-source income in the same proportion as the entity's average apportionment factor for the immediately prior three tax years. Gain or loss from the sale of a Member's passive interest in a Pass-through entity is not Colorado-source income. A Member's interest is passive if, in the tax year the interest is sold, the Member did not materially participate in the Business of the Pass-through entity as defined in §469(h), I.R.C." "Pass-through entity" is defined earlier in the regulation as "(e) 'Pass-through entity' means a partnership, limited partnership, limited liability partnership, a limited liability company that is treated as a partnership for Colorado tax purposes or a trust that is not taxed at the entity level (e.g., a grantor-type trust)." This differs from the statute, Co. Rev. Stat. § 39-22-109, which generally follows the UDITPA and reads: "(V) Income from intangible personal property, including annuities, dividends, interest, and gains from the disposition of intangible personal property to the extent that such income is from property employed in a business, trade, profession, or occupation carried on in Colorado. A nonresident, other than a dealer holding property primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business, shall not be deemed to carry on a business, trade, profession, or occupation in Colorado solely by reason of the purchase and sale of property for his own account." Unlike the regulation, the statute does not differentiate between active and passive interests. Thus, the capital gains on sale of S corp stock or an interest in LLC/LP by a non-resident who is passive (does not materially participate) will escape CO income tax whereas the sale of interest in LLC/LP where the owner materially participates may not. That said, the regulation may not be an appropriate and reasonable interpretation of the statute (or could even be unconstitutional) - this would ultimately have to be decided by a court. Colorado's regulation is in many respects similar to the source income tax scheme in Oregon - see article linked to below in the Oregon section on how to avoid this trap for sales of LLC/LP/S corps. If the trust does not materially participate, it may avoid CO tax on sale of the LLC/LP interest, but then the income would likely be subject to the federal 3.8% net investment income tax.

As used in this subdivision, “noncontingent beneficiary” means a beneficiary whose interest is not subject to a condition precedent. (5) “Nonresident trust or estate” means any trust or estate other than a resident trust or estate or a part-year resident trust.

	Conn. Agency Reg. Sec. 12-701(a)(9)-1 Connecticut taxable income of a resident trust or estate (b)(1) The Connecticut taxable income of a resident nontestamentary trust with one or more nonresident noncontingent beneficiaries shall be the sum of: (A) all of the Connecticut taxable income of the trust that is derived from or connected with sources within this state, and (B) the Connecticut taxable income of the trust that is derived from or connected with all other sources multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of resident noncontingent beneficiaries, if any, and the denominator of which is the total number of noncontingent beneficiaries, whether resident or nonresident. (2) "Derived from or connected with sources within this state" is to be so construed so as to accord with the definition of the term "derived from or connected with sources within this state" set forth in Part II in relation to the adjusted gross income of a nonresident individual. (3) For purposes of this subsection, "noncontingent beneficiary" means every beneficiary whose interest is not subject to a condition precedent and includes every individual to whom a trustee of a nontestamentary trust during the taxable year (i) is required to distribute currently income or corpus (or both) or (ii) properly pays or credits income or corpus (or both) or (iii) may, in the trustee's discretion, distribute income or corpus (or both). "Noncontingent beneficiary" includes every beneficiary to whom or to whose estate any of the trust's income for the taxable year is required to be distributed at a specified future date or event and every beneficiary who has the unrestricted lifetime or testamentary power, exercisable currently or at some future specified date or event, to withdraw any of the trust's income for the taxable year or to appoint such income to any person, including the estate of such beneficiary. The provisions of this subsection also apply to a noncontingent beneficiary which is a trust or an estate, and wherever reference is made in this subsection to an individual who is a noncontingent beneficiary, such reference shall be construed to include a trust or estate which is a noncontingent beneficiary, but shall not be construed to include a corporation which is a noncontingent beneficiary."
	CT Gen Stat § 12-711(3): "Income from intangible personal property, including annuities, dividends, interest and gains from the disposition of intangible personal property, shall constitute income derived from sources within this state only to the extent that such income is from (A) property employed in a business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in this state"

	Reg. § 12-711(b)-5. Income from intangible personal property (a) Items of income, gain, loss and deduction derived from or connected with Connecticut sources do not include such items attributable to intangible personal property of a nonresident individual, including annuities, dividends, interest, and gains and losses from the disposition of intangible personal property, except to the extent attributable to property employed in a business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in Connecticut. Example: Taxpayer A, a resident of New York, owns 100% of the stock of X Corporation, which operates a store in Connecticut. In 1992, the corporation pays A a salary of $20,000, all of which was earned in Connecticut, and a dividend of $2,000. A's income from Connecticut sources is his salary of $20,000, since the dividend is not income derived from Connecticut sources. (b) Intangible personal property is employed in a business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in this state if such property's possession and control have been localized in connection with a business, trade, profession or occupation in Connecticut, so that the property's substantial use and value attach to and become an asset of such business, trade, profession or occupation. An example is where a nonresident pledges stocks, bonds or other intangible personal property in Connecticut as security for the payment of indebtedness incurred in connection with a business being carried on in Connecticut by the nonresident. Another example is where a nonresident maintains a branch office in Connecticut and an interest-bearing checking account on which the agent in charge of the branch office may draw checks for the payment of expenses in connection with the activities in this state. (c) If intangible personal property of a nonresident is employed in a business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in Connecticut, the entire income from such property, including gains from its sale, regardless of where the sale is consummated, is income derived from or connected with sources within this state. However, where a nonresident individual sells real or tangible personal property located in Connecticut and, as a result of such sale, receives intangible personal property (e.g., a note) which generates interest income and capital gain income, such interest income is generally not attributable to the sale of the real or tangible personal property but is attributable to the intangible personal property; however, such capital gain income is attributable to the sale of the real or tangible personal property located in Connecticut. See §§ 12-711(b)-3 and 12-711(b)-8 of this Part. Therefore, such interest income to a nonresident does not constitute income derived from or connected with Connecticut sources. However, interest income derived from an instrument received as a result of a sale of real or tangible personal property located in Connecticut, where the instrument is employed in a business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in this state, does constitute income derived from or connected with Connecticut sources. □

Trust Residency Factors: testator, fiduciary, administration, assets	Iowa Admin. Code r. 701-89.3(1) Testamentary trusts. The situs of a testamentary trust for tax purposes is the state of the decedent's residence at the time of death until the jurisdiction of the court in which the trust proceedings are pending is terminated. In the event of termination and the trust remains open, the situs of the trust is governed by the same rules as pertain to the situs of inter vivos trusts. (2) Inter vivos trusts. If an inter vivos trust is created by order of court or makes an accounting to the court, its situs is the state where the court having jurisdiction is located until the jurisdiction is terminated. The situs of an inter vivos trust which is subject to the grantor trust rules under 26 U.S.C. Sections 671 to 679 is the state of the grantor's residence, or the state of residence of the person other than the grantor deemed the owner, to the extent the income of the trust is governed by the grantor trust rules. If an inter vivos trust (other than a trust subject to the grantor trust rules in 26 U.S.C. Sections 671 to 679) is not required to make an accounting to and is not subject to the control of a court, its situs depends on the relevant facts of each case. The relevant facts include, but are not limited to: the residence of the trustees or a majority of them; the location of the principal office where the trust is administered; and the location of the evidence of the intangible assets of the trust (such as stocks, bonds, bank accounts, etc.). The residence of the grantor of a trust, not subject to the grantor trust rules under 26 U.S.C. Sections 671 to 679, is not a controlling factor as to the situs of the trust, unless the person is also a trustee. A statement in the trust instrument that the law of a certain jurisdiction shall govern the administration of the trust is not a controlling factor in determining situs. The residence of the beneficiaries of a trust is also not relevant in determining situs.

Source Income: Iowa is not a UDITPA state, see differentiations between sales of entities noted	Iowa Administrative Code §40.16(9): "Capital gains or losses from sales or exchanges of ownership interests in Iowa business entities by nonresidents of Iowa. Nonresidents of Iowa who sell or exchange ownership interests in various Iowa business entities will be subject to Iowa income tax on capital gains and capital losses from those transactions for different entities as described in the following paragraphs: a. Capital gains from sales or exchanges of stock in C corporations and S corporations. When a nonresident of Iowa sells or exchanges stock in a C corporation or an S corporation, that shareholder is selling or exchanging the stock, which is intangible personal property. The capital gain received by a nonresident of Iowa from the sale or exchange of capital stock of a C corporation or an S corporation is taxable to the state of the personal domicile or residence of the owner of the capital stock unless the stock attains an independent business situs apart from the personal domicile of the individual who sold the capital stock. The stock may acquire an independent business situs in Iowa if the stock had been used as an integral part of some business activity occurring in Iowa in the year in which the sale or exchange of the stock had taken place. Whether the stock has attained an independent business status is determined on a factual basis.  b. Capital gains from sales or exchanges of interests in partnerships. When a nonresident of Iowa sells or exchanges the individual's interest in a partnership, the nonresident is actually selling an intangible since the partnership can continue without the nonresident partner and the assets used by the partnership are legally owned by the partnership and an individual retains only an equitable interest in the assets of the partnership by virtue of the partner's ownership interest in the partnership. However, because of the unique attributes of partnerships, the owner's interest in a partnership is considered to be localized or "sourced" at the situs of the partnership's activities as a matter of law. Arizona Tractor Co. v. Arizona State Tax Com'n., 566 P.2d 1348, 1350 (Ariz. App. 1997); Iowa Code chapter 486 (unique attributes of a partnership defined). Therefore, if a partnership conducts all of its business in Iowa, 100 percent of the gain on the sale or exchange of a partnership interest would be attributable to Iowa. On the other hand, if the partnership conducts 100 percent of its business outside of Iowa, none of the gain would be attributable to Iowa for purposes of the Iowa income tax. In the situation where a partnership conducts business both in and out of Iowa, the capital gain from the sale or exchange of an interest in the partnership would be allocated or apportioned in and out of Iowa based upon the partnership's activities in and out of Iowa in the year of the sale or exchange. Note that if a partnership is a publicly traded partnership and is taxed as a corporation for federal income tax purposes, any capital gains realized on the sale or exchange of a nonresident partner's interest in the partnership will receive the same tax treatment as the capital gain from the sale or exchange of an interest in a C corporation or an S corporation as specified in paragraph "a" of this subrule.  d. Capital gains from sales or exchanges of interests in limited liability companies. Limited liability companies are hybrid business entities containing elements of both a partnership and a corporation. If a limited liability company properly elected to file or would have been required to file a federal partnership tax return, a capital gain from the sale or exchange of an ownership interest in the limited liability company by a nonresident member of the company would be taxable to Iowa to the same extent as if the individual were selling a similar interest in a partnership as described in paragraph "c" of this subrule. However, if the limited liability company properly elected or would have been required to file a federal corporation tax return, a nonresident member who sells or exchanges an ownership interest in the limited liability company would be treated the same as if the nonresident were selling a similar interest in a C corporation or an S corporation as described in paragraph "a" of this subrule."

Source Income: not a UDITPA or MSP state, see divergent analysis	830 CMR 62.5A.1(c)(8) outlines source income rules, with a stark difference between the sale of stock v. sale of other entities: "8. Sale of a Business or an Interest in a Business. Income from a trade or business may include income that results from the sale of a business or an interest in a business. This rule generally applies to the sale of an interest in a sole proprietorship, general partnership, limited liability partnership, a general or limited partner's interest in a limited partnership (subject to the exception in the following sentence), or an interest in a limited liability company. It generally does not apply to the sale of a limited partner's interest in a publicly traded limited partnership, or to the sale of shares of stock in a C or S corporation, to the extent that the income from such gain is characterized for federal income tax purposes as capital gains. Nevertheless, gain from the disposition of a limited partner's interest in a publicly traded limited partnership or the disposition of shares of corporate stock will be considered Massachusetts source income if it is treated as compensation for federal income tax purposes. Such gain may also give rise to Massachusetts source income if, for example, the gain is otherwise connected with the taxpayer's conduct of a trade or business, including employment (as in a case where the stock is related to the taxpayer's compensation for services) or if the organizational form of a business is changed in anticipation of the disposition of one or more interests therein for the purpose of avoiding Massachusetts tax. Depending on the facts and circumstances of the case, gain from the sale of such corporate stock or limited partner's interest in a publicly traded limited partnership will be taxable to non-residents if it is determined that the taxpayer has engaged in a transaction or multiple transactions, the purpose of which is the avoidance of tax upon the gain (e.g. sham or step transaction, or prohibited assignment of income).

New legislation passed in 2014 affecting DINGs and other non-grantor trusts:

NY Tax L § 612

(40) in the case of a beneficiary of a trust that, in any tax year after its creation including its first tax year, was not subject to tax pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section six hundred five of this article (except for an incomplete gift non-grantor trust, as defined by paragraph forty-one of this subsection), the amount described in the first sentence of section six hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code for the tax year to the extent not already included in federal gross income for the tax year, except that, in computing the amount to be added under this paragraph, such beneficiary shall disregard (i) subsection (c) of section six hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code; (ii) the income earned by such trust in any tax year in which the trust was subject to tax under this article; and (iii) the income earned by such trust in a taxable year prior to when the beneficiary first became a resident of the state or in any taxable year starting before January first, two thousand fourteen. Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, all of the provisions of the internal revenue code that are relevant to computing the amount described in the first sentence of subsection (a) of section six hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code shall apply to the provisions of this paragraph with the same force and effect as if the language of those internal revenue code provisions had been incorporated in full into this paragraph, except to the extent that any such provision is either inconsistent with or not relevant to this paragraph.

§ 2. Subsection (b) of section 612 of the tax law is amended by adding a new paragraph 41 to read as follows:

(41) In the case of a taxpayer who transferred property to an incomplete gift non-grantor trust, the income of the trust, less any deductions of the trust, to the extent such income and deductions of such trust would be taken into account in computing the taxpayer's federal taxable income if such trust in its entirety were treated as a grantor trust for federal tax purposes. For purposes of this paragraph, an "incomplete gift non-grantor trust" means a resident trust that meets the following conditions: (i) the trust does not qualify as a grantor trust under section six hundred seventy-one through six hundred seventy-nine of the internal revenue code, and (2) the grantor's transfer of assets to the trust is treated as an incomplete gift under section twenty-five hundred eleven of the internal revenue code, and the regulations thereunder.

LAW § 631 : NY Code - Section 631: New York source income of a nonresident individual: [note change from UDITPA/intangible rule] (a) General. The New York source income of a nonresident individual shall be the sum of the following: (1) The net amount of items of income, gain, loss and deduction entering into his federal adjusted gross income, as defined in the laws of the United States for the taxable year, derived from or connected with New York sources, including: (A) his distributive share of partnership income, gain, loss and deduction, determined under section six hundred thirty-two, and (B) his pro rata share of New York S corporation income, loss and deduction, increased by reductions for taxes described in paragraphs two and three of subsection (f) of section thirteen hundred sixty-six of the internal revenue code, determined under section six hundred thirty-two, and (C) his share of estate or trust income, gain, loss and deduction, determined under section six hundred thirty-four and (2) The portion of the modifications described in subsections (b) and (c) of section six hundred twelve which relate to income derived from New York sources (including any modifications attributable to him as a partner or shareholder of a New York S corporation). (b) Income and deductions from New York sources. (1) Items of income, gain, loss and deduction derived from or connected with New York sources shall be those items attributable to: (A) the ownership of any interest in real or tangible personal property in this state; or (1) For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "real property located in this state" includes an interest in a partnership, limited liability corporation, S corporation, or non-publicly traded C corporation with one hundred or fewer shareholders (hereinafter the "entity") that owns real property that is located in New York and has a fair market value that equals or exceeds fifty percent of all the assets of the entity on the date of sale or exchange of the taxpayer's interest in the entity. Only those assets that the entity owned for at least two years before the date of the sale or exchange of the taxpayer's interest in the entity are to be used in determining the fair market value of all the assets of the entity on the date of sale or exchange. The gain or loss derived from New York sources from the taxpayer's sale or exchange of an interest in an entity that is subject to the provisions of this subparagraph is the total gain or loss for federal income tax purposes from that sale or exchange multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the fair market value of the real property located in New York on the date of sale or exchange and the denominator of which is the fair market value of all the assets of the entity on the date of sale or exchange.

	Matter of Franklin C. Lewis , N.Y. DTA No. 827791 (ALJ Determination June 20, 2019) – non-NY resident sells S corporations, but not as a pure stock sale, but the buyers and sellers agreed to a stock sale with an IRC § 338(h)(10) election deeming it an asset sale for federal income tax purposes. NY clarified (some would say “changed”) its law regarding S corporation 338(h)(10) transactions after the transaction in question, and they made the law retroactive. Naturally the taxpayer argued that this violated the Due Process Clauses of the United States and New York constitutions. This argument did not sway the court, however, since the legislature had clearly meant to ratify tax department’s prior interpretation and cure what it saw as incorrect prior rulings.

For example, the Committee may direct the Trustee to take or refrain from taking any action which the Committee deems it advisable for the Trustee to take or refrain from taking. All of the powers of the Trustee under the Trust Agreements are subject to the directions of the Committee. Since the Committee is an advisor having the controlling power over the Trustee, following Rubin, supra, the members of the Committee are considered to be co-trustees of the Trusts. Therefore, for purposes of the first condition under section 605(b)(3)(D)(i) of the Tax Law and section 105.23(c) of the Regulations, the individuals comprising the Committee are considered to be trustees of the Trusts."

Ohio Rev. Code § 5747.01(I)(3): “Resident” means any of the following, provided that division (I)(3) of this section applies only to taxable years of a trust beginning in 2002 or thereafter:***
(3) A trust that, in whole or part, resides in this state. If only part of a trust resides in this state, the trust is a resident only with respect to that part.
For the purposes of division (I)(3) of this section:
(a) A trust resides in this state for the trust’s current taxable year to the extent, as described in division (I)(3)(d) of this section, that the trust consists directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, of assets, net of any related liabilities, that were transferred, or caused to be transferred, directly or indirectly, to the trust by any of the following:
(i) A person, a court, or a governmental entity or instrumentality on account of the death of a decedent, but only if the trust is described in division (I)(3)(e)(i) or (ii) of this section;
(ii) A person who was domiciled in this state for the purposes of this chapter when the person directly or indirectly transferred assets to an irrevocable trust, but only if at least one of the trust’s qualifying beneficiaries is domiciled in this state for the purposes of this chapter during all or some portion of the trust’s current taxable year;
(iii) A person who was domiciled in this state for the purposes of this chapter when the trust document or instrument or part of the trust document or instrument became irrevocable, but only if at least one of the trust’s qualifying beneficiaries is a resident domiciled in this state for the purposes of this chapter during all or some portion of the trust’s current taxable year. If a trust document or instrument became irrevocable upon the death of a person who at the time of death was domiciled in this state for purposes of this chapter, that person is a person described in division (I)(3)(a)(iii) of this section. (b) A trust is irrevocable to the extent that the transferor is not considered to be the owner of the net assets of the trust under sections 671 to 678 of the Internal Revenue Code.
(c) With respect to a trust other than a charitable lead trust, "qualifying beneficiary" has the same meaning as "potential current beneficiary" as defined in section 1361(e)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, and with respect to a charitable lead trust "qualifying beneficiary" is any current, future, or contingent beneficiary, but with respect to any trust "qualifying beneficiary" excludes a person or a governmental entity or instrumentality to any of which a contribution would qualify for the charitable deduction under section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code. □

Intangible personal property, including money or credits, of a nonresident has a situs for taxation in Oregon when used in the conduct of the taxpayer’s business, trade, or profession in Oregon. Income from the use of such property, including dividends, interest, royalties, and other income from money or credits, constitutes a part of the income from a business, trade, or profession carried on in Oregon when such property is acquired or used in the course of such business, trade, or profession as a capital or current asset and is held in that capacity at the time the income arises. (b) If a nonresident pledges stocks, bonds, or other intangible personal property in Oregon as security for the payment of indebtedness, taxes, etc., incurred in connection with a business in this state, the property has a business situs here. Thus, if a nonresident maintains a branch office here and a bank account on which the agent in charge of the branch office may draw for the payment of expenses in connection with the activities in this state, the bank account has a business situs here. If intangible personal property of a nonresident has acquired a business situs here, the entire income from the property, including gains from the sales of the property, regardless of where the sale is consummated, is income from sources within this state and is taxable to the nonresident.

Or. Admin. R. 150-316.0171 Gross Income of Nonresidents; Other Income and Sale of Property [continued from above field]

(2) Sales of property.

(a) Tangible property. The gain from any sale, exchange, or other disposition by a nonresident of real or tangible personal property located in Oregon is taxable, even though it is not connected with a business carried on in this state. The loss from such a transaction is deductible if it is a business loss or a transaction entered into for profit. The gain or loss from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of real property or tangible personal property located in Oregon is determined in the same manner and recognized to the same extent as the gain or loss from a similar transaction by a resident.

(b) Intangible property. The gain from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of intangible personal property, including stocks, bonds, and other securities is not taxable unless the intangible personal property has acquired a business situs in Oregon. See section (1) of this rule. Likewise, losses from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of such property are not deductible, unless they are losses incurred in a business carried on within Oregon by the nonresident taxpayer.

(c) S corporation stock. In general, a nonresident's gain or loss from the sale, exchange, or disposition of S corporation stock is not attributable to a business carried on in this state and is not Oregon source income. The gain or loss from the S corporation stock may not be used in the determination of Oregon taxable income unless the stock has acquired a business situs in this state. See section (1) of this rule.

(d) General Partnership Interests. A nonresident's gain or loss from the sale, exchange, or disposition of a general partnership interest in an Oregon partnership is attributable to a business carried on in Oregon and is Oregon source income. The gain or loss is allocated as provided in ORS 314.635.

(e) Limited Partnership Interests. In general, a nonresident's gain or loss from the sale, exchange, or disposition of a limited partnership interest is not attributable to a business carried on in Oregon and is not Oregon source income. The gain or loss from the sale of the interest will not be used in the determination of Oregon taxable income unless the limited partnership interest has acquired a business situs in this state (see section (1) of this rule.).

(f) Limited Liability Company Interests. The taxation of a nonresident's gain or loss from the sale, exchange, or disposition of an interest in a limited liability company (LLC) operating in Oregon is Oregon source income and is taxed in the same manner as:

(A) The sale of a general partnership interest under subsection (2)(d) of this rule if the selling member is a member-manager of the LLC; or

(B) The sale of a limited partnership interest under subsection (2)(e) of this rule if the selling member is not a member-manager of the LLC.

(C) For purposes of this rule, a person is a "member-manager" of an LLC if that member has the right to participate in the management and conduct of the LLC's business. For an LLC that is designated as a member-managed LLC in its articles of organization, all members of the LLC will be member-managers. For an LLC that is designated as a manager-managed LLC in its articles of organization, only those persons who are both members of the LLC and are designated as a manager in the LLC's operating agreement (or elected as managers by the LLC members pursuant to the operating agreement) will be member-managers.

(g) Limited Liability Partnership Interests. A nonresident's gain or loss from the sale, exchange, or disposition of an interest in a limited liability partnership is taxed in the same manner as if it were a general partnership interest under subsection (2)(d) of this rule.

The Virginia taxable income of a nonresident individual, partner, shareholder or beneficiary is Virginia taxable income computed as a resident multiplied by the ratio of net income, gain, loss and deductions from Virginia sources to net income, gain, loss and deductions from all sources. B. Net income, gain, loss and deductions. As used in this regulation, "net income, gain, loss and deductions" includes income, gain, loss and deductions attributable to (i) the ownership of any interest in real or tangible personal property; (ii) the conduct of a business, trade, profession or occupation; (iii) wages, salary, and tips; and (iv) income from intangible personal property employed by an individual in a business, trade, profession or occupation. Net income, gain, loss and deductions includes interest income, dividends (less the exclusion allowed by IRC § 116), business income and loss, capital gains or losses (subject to the 60 long-term capital gains provisions of IRC § 1202), supplemental gains and losses, pensions and annuities (to the extent subject to federal taxation), rents, royalties, income from partnerships, estates, trusts, and S corporations, farm income and loss, unemployment compensation (to the extent) subject to federal taxation, interest on obligations of states other than Virginia, lump sum distributions, and other income such as gambling winnings, prizes and lottery winnings. "Net income, gain, loss and deductions from Virginia sources" means that attributable to property within Virginia, or to the conduct of a trade, business, occupation or profession within Virginia. Net income, gain, loss and deductions from Virginia sources includes salary, tips or wages earned in Virginia, gain on the sale of property located in Virginia, income or loss from a partnership, estate, trust, or S corporation doing business in Virginia, and income from intangible personal property employed by an individual in a business, trade, profession, or occupation carried on in Virginia.
	Virginia State Tax Commissioner Ruling 11-48 dated March 31, 2011- non resident selling VA S corp not taxed on stock sale, but will be taxed on stock deal treated as an asset sale for income tax purposes under IRC 338(h)(10) as source income.
	Virginia State Tax Commissioner Ruling 20-23 dated December 13, 2019 - nonresident not taxed on S corp stock sale: "To the extent payments result from the sale of an intangible asset not employed in a trade or business carried on in Virginia, such payments would not be subject to Virginia income tax when received by a nonresident of Virginia. See Public Document (P.D.) 11-48 (3/11/2011). In this case, the stock itself would not be considered to be an intangible asset employed in a trade or business carried on in Virginia, so gain from the sale of the stock would not be taxable income to a nonresident. The result, however, may be different if an election is made under IRC § 338(h)(10) to treat the stock sale as an asset sale for federal income tax purposes."
	Virginia State Tax Commissioner Ruling 08-143 dated July 30, 2008- where S corp and owner domiciled out of VA merely owned an LP interest with undeveloped VA real estate, it was ruled not to be source income.
Washington (0%)	No income tax imposed. It does have a business and occupation tax on gross income however, see https://dor.wa.gov/find-taxes-rates/business-occupation-tax .
